TO LEASE PART OF THE OPERA HOUSE.

AN OPTION GIVEN TO THE VAUDEVILLE CLUB WHICH IT WILL ACCEPT.

home of the Vandeville Club this season is to be the assembly rooms and foyer of the Metropolitan Opera House. When it was definitely decided that the structure would not be rebuilt this fall and winter, the club managers saw a chance to get suitable quarters for the new organization. The part of the opera house which had not been damaged by fire contained excellent accommodations for the club, and the situation was unexceptionable. Talks with individual directors of the opera house indicated that a proposition for the leasing of the space wanted would be viewed with

The only difficulty was the legal complications arising from the foreclosure of the mortgage on the property. It was in doubt at first just who had the right to sign the lease. But a way has been made through the tangle and the directors have given the club a formal option on the rooms. The club governors appointed Frebie Tucker, the secretary, and Stanford White a committee to conduct the negotiations for the rooms The terms offered are satisfactory and the papers will be drawn up and signed shortly. It is likely that the work of altering the quarters will be begun about November 1 and that the first entertainment can be given in the latter part of that month. These rooms will be kept only until spring. Then the club will erect a building for itself, to be ready for the fall

The second set of invitations which were sent out have met with many favorable responses. The last list of membership was printed on October 7, and since that time fifty-three new names have been enrolled. The total 1s now about 450. Reginald de Koven, the president, will have charge of engaging the attractions.

HEREMANN'S PLAN OF CHINESE IMMIGRATION. Herrmann, the magician, gave a little private par's at his theatre yesterday afternoon for the pur-pose of showing the new trick which he is to do publicly next week. It is called "Ya-Ko-Yo," but that is only for the sake of giving it a name; it might just as well be called anything else. It is quite simple-to look at-but puzzling and incomprehensible just in proportion as it is simple. Two square boxes with Chinese decorations are hung about six feet above the stage, one on each side of ft, each suspended by a single rope. When the trick is then the problem is given in public one side of the stage is to be set with scenery to represent China and the other side the port of San Francisco. The avowed object of the trick is to show how a Chinese can come to this country from his own in spite of any possible legisla flon against him. The man climbs up and gets into the box on the Chinese side of the stage and the froat door of it is shut; the door of the other bex hut, too. Then the rope that holds the box he ther box is seen to tighten. The doors are opened tain, and the man is in the San Francisco box. that is all. No mirror and no kind of mechanism be seen, and it is all done quickly. Doubtless the would be no trouble about Chinese immigration of Mr. Herrmann could attend personally to every case.

JAMES G. BLAINE'S CALL.

HE VISITS THE NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS.

DISCUSSING THE CAMPAIGN WITH CHAIRMAN CARTER AND OTHER COMMITTEEMEN-

GOOD REPORTS FROM EVERYWHERE. A carriage was driven up to the headquarters of ave, early yesterday morning. The first man to get her of the Republican National Committee from that State. He was followed by James G. Blaine, exwere met by Colonel Swords and Colonel Cavanagh. Both of these men were surprised to see Mr.

driven back to the hotel at which he and Mrs. Blaine are staying. Later in the day Mr. Blaine took a short stroll up Broadway, going as far as Thirty-fifth-st. He was unattended, and was followed by the gaze of the thousands of men and women who were in that thoroughfare at that time of the day, and who watched him closely as he went from shop-window to shop-window looking at the articles displayed in

Jones, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Republican National Committee in 1884; ex-Senator Warner Miller, Postmaster W. W. Johnson, of Baltimore, and

William Angelo, of this city. Ex-Congressman John F. Finerty, of Chicago, has been making speeches in Connecticut during the last week, was asked if there was any truth in the polis. the statement made by the correspondent of a Demo cratic morning newspaper that his meetings had been broken up by turbulent Democrats of Danbury and Waterbury, Conn.

"It is true," he said, in reply, "that a dozen or two half-drunken rufflans attended both meetings and sought to raise a disturbance. I stopped them, however, without any trouble. The decent people present of both political persuasions sustained me by I think the disturbing element was applause, socialistic. The attempted disturbance in Danbury was led by a man who kept some kind of a drinking shop in that place. His associates were of all races and were mostly rude and ignorant striplings.

"At Waterbury, on Tuesday night, the chief disturber was a very sullen-looking fellow. After a few of his interruptions I said to the audience, 'Won't some of you kindly take that coyote by the neck and throw him out of the hall?' He rose and went out without further assistance. There was no further disturbance. If these fellows really belong to the Democratic party they are a disgrace to it, and will do it more harm than good. We had a magnificent and entirely orderly meeting at Birmingham, Conn. on Wednesday night. Many ladies attended, and they were fully as enthusiastic as the men. I think we shall surely carry the Nutmeg State. The Democrats there seem, from all appearances, to be pretty well frightened."

Mr. Finerty, after speaking in Norwalk, Conn., will go to New-Hampshire, thence to Indiana, and will close his speaking in New-York the last week of the campaign.

Ex-Governor Foraker, of Ohio, said: "I think the outlook for Republican victory is excellent. Dur ing the early part of the campaign we had solicitude as to the States of Nebraska and Kansas. There was as to the States of talk about Wisconsin going Democratic. I think our Democratic friends have abandoned hope of carrying any one of these States, notwithstanding the fusion in Kansas. In Indiana the Democrats have been making claims, but our people have every confidence that the electoral vote of that State will be given to Harrison, and I have seen enough of the political sentiment of the State, and know enough about the judgment of the leading Republicans of the State, to believe that there is no trouble about carrying Indiana. I do not know so much about New York, for I have been here only two days, but all that I have seen and heard has been of a character to inspire me with confidence that the thirty-six votes of New-York will be given to Harrison and Reid."

"How did you find your meetings?"

"My meetings were excellent. They were large and a great deal of enthusiasm was manifested. If meetings are any true indication of the sentiment in the minds of the people, the party ought to do a great deal better in New-York than it did in 1888." also a good deal of talk about Wisconsin going Demo-

GEORGE GUNTON ON STARR HOYT NICHOLS.

George Gunton, Editor of "The Social Economist," was asked yesterday what his views were respecting the letter printed over the signature of Starr Hoyt Nichols, to the effect that the latter had become as adherent of the Democratic party. He said that the announcement of Mr. Nichols's change of political affiliation was an entire surprise to him. he said, seemed to be in full accord with the policy "The Social Economist," which has fought the Democratic party because of its Free-Trade policy.

In his letter Mr. Nichols offers as a reason for joining the Democrats that "he desired to see the tariff reduced to a scientific basis, covering merely the difference between our own and foreign wage levels." This appears to Mr. Gunton remarkably

"The Chicago Convention," said Mr. Gunton, "r jected a proposition embodying this idea, declaring it to be a fraud and a robbery of the American people, and declaring Protection to be a fraud. The Republican platform covers this admirably as follows: 'All articles which cannot be produced in the United States, except luxuries, should be admitted free of duty, and that on all imports coming into competition with the products of American labor, there should be levied duties equal to the difference betwen wages abroad

"Thus," Mr. Gunton continued, "in changing parties Mr. Nichols has left the party which emphatically and unequivocally pledges itself to adopt the very economic basis for the tariff which he desires, and has gone over to the party which distinctly and insultingly rejected the same proposition. Why he has changed, I am unable to comprehend."

SUGGESTIONS ABOUT THE BIG PARADE. To the Editor of The Tribune.

Sir: Are not the Republicans about to commit most serious blunder? They have set the great parade down for October 29. This is the last day set for registration, usually the most important day. and Saturday is so short a day that there will be no time for registration in the morning, and the afternoon must be given up to arrangements for the parade, which will last till 7 o'clock or later. The men, tired out and hungry (and it may prove a stormy night also), will not have time to get home and register, many Republican spectators of the pa and register, many Republican specialors of the parade will neglect to register and the consequences will be fatal to the ticket.

The Democrats are smarter. They hold a great mass-meeting on the night of the 20th, but do not begin speaking till half-past 9 o'clock, thus giving their men all day to register, and crowds lingering around after the Republican parade will swell their demonstration. Put off the Republican parade till an evening in the first week of November. This is what the Democrats will do.

MRS. HARRISON'S CONDITION WORSE.

PERIOD OF GREAT WEAKNESS, FROM WHICH SHE RALLIES SOMEWHAT.

Washington, Oct. 20.-There was a change for th orse in the condition of Mrs. Harrison to-night, and she was weaker than she had been at any time since lliness began. At 10 o'clock, however, she had railled somewhat. She is greatly exhausted, and can which had ceased to trouble her, is now said to have increased in volume. This, coming as it does in paroxysms, has a depressing and exhausting effect or patient, and tends to reduce her vitality. Harrison passed a comparatively quiet day, and did not suffer so much from nervousness. She experienced ore difficulty then usual, however, in taking nour ishment, which she has heretofore taken with sys ematic regularity.

Afthough see is in such a weak state, yet he physician said to night he did not apprehend immediate fatal result. At 10 o'clock Dr. Gardner said she was resting a little more quietly and feeling a little stronger. The doctor said he was about to go to bed at that hour, and would be called if he wa eded at the White House.

Mrs. Harrison's condition is so precarious that she may pass away within a few hours should another sinking spell occur. This may happen at any time new from the natural effects of the disease and in the absence of any new complications.
